Foundation:

In 2004 we, Tibor and Jeannette Liptay, set up Addministra Baumanagement GmbH, building upon our professional skills and experience as a civil engineer and a commercial specialist. These strengths complement each other ideally in our company's areas of expertise.

Over the past few years, we have continuously further developed our business. Today, we are a strong SME in the market specialising in general planning and in construction, insurance claims and real estate management.

Addministra focuses its efforts on maintaining and enhancing the value of existing building structures. On the basis of years of collaboration with various insurance companies, we have come to specialise in the correction of structural building damage

General Planning:

The focus of our company is on the general planning of building modifications, conversions, renovations and upgrades, and in particular the correction of structural damage. Our collaboration with a reputable team of professional planners enables us to handle everything from small and straightforward to big and complex projects. Our special competence is the construction of laboratories.

Client Representation & Consulting:

As building construction professionals, we offer you highly competent support in implementing your specific project. Our services in this field include feasibility studies and analyses of possible building modifications, upgrades and conversions. They show you the related necessary measures, strategies and costs.

Insurance Claims Management:

Regardless of whether fire or water damage or pest infestation is involved, we assist insurance companies by supplying experts' reports, proposing immediate corrective action and defining the scope of repair of complex structural damage.

Real Estate Management:

We offer owners and real estate administrators advice on how to manage their property, deal with specialist agencies and handle specific building construction issues. The close collaboration between our highly qualified commercial staff and construction professionals allows us to cover both fields of activity in an ideal manner.
